A Message from Our Board President & CEO

Dear Friends:

Domestic Violence Impacts the Chester County Community...

It will take the average reader about 120 seconds to read the words on this page; in that time, at least eight women will have been beaten by their intimate partner in America...one every 15 seconds. (UN Study on the Status of Women.) Here in Chester County, the statistics remain stark; one out of four women will experience domestic violence at some point in their lives and one out of seven men will fall victim to domestic violence at some point in theirs. It is a crime predominantly perpetrated against women and, sadly, a crime often witnessed by the children who are forced to grow up in these households of fear and often repeat the cycle of violence as adults. In May of 2013 another young mother in our community, Jamica Woods, lost her life to domestic violence.

In this report you will read a statement from one of our survivors. Your support of the Domestic Violence Center of Chester County is critical to impacting this family and so many other afflicted families as we pursue our mission: To provide intervention, education, outreach, advocacy, and programs to prevent reduce, and remedy domestic violence in Chester County.

In addition to the free and confidential services we provide to help move victims in Chester County along their journey to independence, we have also continued to be active in the community at large:

- ◆ It has been our privilege to be invited into local high schools and classrooms around the county to teach students about dating violence and healthy relationships. Our questionnaire validated that many young students in our community know of someone who has been the victim of dating violence.
- ◆ We have appreciated each opportunity to come before corporate representatives and employees to educate about domestic violence in the workplace. Unfortunately, domestic violence finding its way to the workplace is the tragic reality of one of our recent county fatalities.
- ◆ Our efforts to positively impact the community have expanded to include our law enforcement officials as we have been at the forefront of introducing the lethality assessment program to police chiefs and officers throughout Chester County. Police officers will tell you that a domestic violence call is the most dangerous call to which they are asked to respond. We are very grateful for all they quietly do in support of the community and our organization and mission.

On behalf of the Domestic Violence Center of Chester County and its employees, volunteers, Board of Directors, and most importantly, the victims of domestic violence in Chester County whom we are privileged to serve, please accept our heartfelt gratitude and thanks.

Sincerely,

Karen Elrod, President, Board of Directors

Dolly Wideman-Scott, MS, CEO

Our History and Services

History:

Founded in 1976, DVCCC is the oldest agency in Chester County providing services exclusively for victims of domestic violence and their children and is the sole agency under contract from the Pennsylvania Department of Public Welfare to do so. DVCCC began as the YWCA Women's Resource Center (WRC), to serve as an information and referral service for Chester County women. Once this service became known, it started receiving a flood of calls from women in situations of violence. The directors of WRC, finding no organization in the area to which the victims could be referred, reorganized the agency as the Domestic Violence Center of Chester County, focusing on domestic violence intervention and prevention. Over the past 37 years we have provided services to over 35,000 victims and their children, with over 3,200 assisted in the fiscal year ended 6/30/13. All services are confidential and each one, including legal advice and representation, is offered free of charge. Services are provided at confidential sites and at satellite offices in Kennett Square, Coatesville, Oxford, and Phoenixville, PA.

Programs:

- ◆ Adult Counseling: Designed to strengthen families affected by the trauma of domestic violence. Services are provided via 24 hour hotline, individual and group counseling with a focus on safety planning, importance of healthy relationships, goal setting, financial management, referrals and job training.
- ◆ Housing: Designed to meet basic needs. DVCCC has four housing programs: (1) 30 day Emergency Shelter: (2) 12/18 month Bridge Transitional Housing (3) 18 month Independent Living Scattered Sites, (4) 24 month Independent Living. These programs can house up to 100 victims and their dependent children at any given time.
- ◆ Legal Services: Designed to strengthen families. Services include legal options counseling, advice and representation in Protection from Abuse cases, custody, support, bankruptcy, immigration and other civil matters.
- ◆ Children's Services: Designed to support children of victims of domestic violence. Individual and group counseling is provided, as well as homework help, recreational activities and liaison services to schools where the children are enrolled.
- ◆ Public Education and Training: Designed to promote social responsibility by developing a coordinated community response to domestic violence. We participate in events and deliver presentations and trainings to groups such as schools, businesses, law enforcement, hospitals, social service agencies and community organizations.
- ◆ Rapid Response Program: Designed to reduce time lapses between police intervention and/or emergency room treatment with the provision of domestic violence services and to promote a coordinated community response to end domestic violence.
- ◆ Lethality Assessment Program (LAP): Designed to decrease lethality risk in highly dangerous domestic violence cases by having police connect victims at high risk of homicide with the life saving services of DVCCC.

"Being a program participant not only saved my life but changed my motivation. Not only do I have peace of mind but I have an extended family that I can call on in time of need or just to say hi. Prior to utilizing the services offered by Domestic Violence of Chester County, I felt lost and hopeless with not much family support. Not too many people believed my story or were too afraid to help fearing something would happen to them. When I reached out to Domestic Violence of Chester County I felt like the person on the other end of the phone was hugging me so tight that it didn't leave any room for fear, and to this day I feel the same way no matter who I talk to. I had been living in a bubble unable to think independently because of all that my children and I witnessed and lost. I needed guidance...anxiety, stress, denial, children sleeping in my room, curtains closed, lights out – as if no one was home, the loud pounding of my heart beating rapidly at my chest, jumping at every thump the children made...mentally trapped. That one phone call made all the difference." Victim/Survivor from Oxford, PA.

An Evening of Remembrance and Recognition

On October 9th, 2012 DVCCC held its first annual Remembrance and Recognition program to remember those who have lost their lives to domestic violence and to recognize those who have survived. Special recognition was given to District Attorney Thomas P. Hogan and Deputy District Attorney Michelle Friei for taking a stand against domestic violence. Recognition was also given to the Oxford and Coatesville Police Departments and to Coatesville Sergeant Rodger M. Ollis for participating in the pilot Lethality Assessment Program to better assist victims. Friends and family of victims who had lost their lives spoke for their loved ones, and DVCCC volunteer Linda Slavin shared her inspirational story of survival. Music was provided by members of the Lincoln University Choir and the Chester County Emerald Pipers.

Witnessing domestic and dating violence can have a huge impact on children, both physically and psychologically. They may grow up believing that domestic violence is normal and mimic the behaviors they witnessed in their parents' relationship. The DVCCC Children's Program provides individual and group counseling along with recreational activities for dependent children of our participants, all designed to help them address their trauma and break the cycle of abuse.

Community Support

DVCCC held its first annual "Pars for Purple" Golf Outing in October of 2012 at the Applecross Country Club in Downingtown, PA. Golfers enjoyed a beautiful day of golf that included lunch, dinner, on-course games and some friendly competition. Proceeds benefited victims of domestic violence and their dependent children.

During the 2012/2013 fiscal year, DVCCC was fortunate to be the recipient of several community fundraising events. As an example, Joan and John Caufield, owners of Mas Mexicali Cantina in West Chester, hosted the Freedom Fashion Show at their restaurant. Along with beautiful models and fashions, the event featured entertainment, raffles and a delicious lunch.

2012/2013 was a big year for renovations at DVCCC. Grants and other donations allowed us to renovate the Emergency Shelter kitchen and bathrooms, along with performing other much needed repairs. Individual volunteers and groups from churches and businesses like Weston Women, ING, Prudential and Vanguard contributed their time and talent with painting and remodeling.
